FARM PRODUCTS AND A MARKETING SYSTEM

besides the grower and consumer is sustaining a very needless and heavy profit paid these two classes of middlemen and the loss from decay is great, diemen, who though they seldom retail, without a large investment or risk name the price that represents a loss or profit to the grower and under favorable circumstances he always doubles that price to the consumer. Why do you, the grower, appoint this unknown broker to name the price to you for your products? Why do you ship your goods under a system that delays delivery and thereby not only reduces your profit but while it adds to the price the consumer pays, your goods lose in quality?

A practical selling system will never be organized as long as the farmer stands still, fixed by such articles as appeared in the Country Gentleman recently boosting the auction exchange, and a practical system will never be developed until the growers take in counsel with them and employ the assistance—under good salary—well trained business men who understand the commercial trade in handling and selling.

The conductor and baggage master of Coast Line train 141, which arrives here at 10:50 in the morning had to obtain substitutes today, being held up in Gainesville to appear as witnesses in the United States court. It seems that a darkey on the train, some two weeks ago, took a paper out of a bundle on the Palatka-Gainesville train. He had, he says, permission to do so, but the iron hand of Uncle Sam came down on him, so the conductor and baggage man had to appear in court today as witnesses. Trainmaster Rietzel and Stock Claims Agent Bostwick took their places.

Bishop H. C. Morrison of Leesburg and bishop of the M. E. church, South of Florida, New Mexico and other sections, is spending this week in Miami, arriving there last Saturday, where he went especially for the purpose of preaching the sermon Monday afternoon for the ceremony of laying the cornerstone of the new church of that denomination. Bishop Morrison also delivered an excellent sermon at the Methodist church in that city Sunday morning. He is most enthusiastic in his great church work and is thoroughly enjoying his visit to that section. While in that city he is being entertained at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Gautier.

Mr. J. H. Wall of Summerfield, of the firm of J. H. Wall & Son, merchandising in that place, and some of the most substantial citizens of the lower part of the county were in town today and made the Star an appreciative call. Mr. Wall says the road from Belleview to Summerfield is in a wretched condition and if it is not soon repaired the people there will be forced to go to Wildwood to do their banking and such trading as they can do there.

gather the facts on cost of manufacturing sugar, cotton and woolen goods, meats, millers' products, canned goods, etc., and ascertain the actual capital invested and the percentage of profit made by men controlling these businesses as compared with the capital invested in farms and equipment and percentage of profit the farmer earns by farming, it will be easy to democratize or socialize the people to take action necessary for equalization.

How much profit did the farmer make on his sugar crop when the jobbers were dealing it out at 8c per pound, more than double the cost of production. How much lower did manufactured cotton goods sell with cotton at 7c per pound? Wheat and flour in the hands of brokers advanced simultaneously the last year. Why did not flour decline when wheat sold at 60 and 70 cents per bushel? How much more does it cost to manufacture a pound of cotton to muslin cloth than to grow it and put it in the bale? Which requires the greatest capital, the farm and its equipment or the factories? How much more than the cost of production is the price paid for farm implements? A sewing machine, a typewriter, an automobile and accessories and thousands of articles—necessities of life—monopolies through our rotten patent system. How much more than cost of production does the farmer pay for commercial fertilizer?

By manufacturing farm products and farm necessities in our state schools backed by the national department of agriculture, with the railroads to serve at rates fixed in proportion to cost of service, with newspapers that will truthfully put before the reading public the truthful answer to the questions asked above, in six months of good newspaper work along these lines there will be no difficulty to get the farmer and the public to equalize for their protection and develop a system that will equalize the distribution of wealth instead of the bulk of profits in stock raising going to the big meat packers, the bulk of the profit in sugar going to the refineries, the wool, cotton and grain profits to a few big millers and grain, cotton and wool speculators and then added to all of this millions and millions of dollars paid by farmers annually to pay dividends on watered stock in railroads.

Cure these evils and we solve the problem of keeping the boy on the farm. The farmer's life is the most ideal and is the most attractive when the farmer gets his share of the profits the consumer pays for his products. Lycurgus Burns.

DESOPENDENCY DUE TO INDIGESTION

"About three months ago when I was suffering from indigestion which caused headache and dizzy spells and made me feel tired and despondent, I began taking Chamberlain's Tablets," writes Mrs. Geo. Hon, Macedon, N. Y. "This medicine proved to be the very thing I needed, as one day's treatment relieved me greatly. I used two bottles of Chamberlain's Tablets and they rid me of this trouble." Obtainable everywhere.

THE CLERK GUARANTEED IT

"A customer came into my store the other day and said to one of my clerks, 'have you anything that will cure diarrhoea?' and my clerk went and got him a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, and said to him, 'if this does not cure you, I will not charge you a cent for it. So he took it home and came back in a day or two and said he was cured,' writes J. H. Berry & Co., Salt Creek, Va. Obtainable everywhere.

COMING SESSION OF COURT IN PINELLAS COUNTY

Will Take Up the Murder of the Eliot Women as Its First Case

St. Petersburg, Aug. 24.—The first investigation which the grand jury will make when it goes into session on Sept. 14, will be the murder of Mrs. C. W. Eliot and her daughter, Susan, of Tampa, on the night of July 2. John J. Mendenhall, one of the most prominent men of Pinellas county, was arrested charged with the crime, and only once has he broken his silence. That was when he issued a statement for publication declaring that he was innocent of the crime.

When the circuit court opens the Mendenhall case is to be the first one scheduled on the docket, and it will be tried in Pinellas county. Mr. Mendenhall and his attorneys, John U. Bird, and Thomas Palmer, of Tampa, feel that as fair and impartial trial may be had here as in any other county.

The Ashley Sheet Metal Works has been moved to the Green block on South Main street, from West Broadway.

NOTICE TO FARMERS

Louis R. Chazal & Son Co. announces that it expects to be ready to purchase corn about September 5. In order to avoid having corn brought to Ocala and taken back again, the company asks that the farmers make arrangements with the company before hauling. This will save the farmers unnecessary trouble. The company will not be able to purchase corn until about September 5 because it finds that its warehouse and machinery will not be ready before that date. The first shipment of machinery arrived yesterday and Mr. John Chazal was busy placing it in the warehouse. The warehouse of Mr. S. H. Christian, opposite that of J. F. Jenkins & Co., has been leased by the Chazal firm.

RECOMMENDS CHAMBERLAIN'S COLIC, CHOLERA AND DIARRHOEA REMEDY

"I never hesitate to recommend Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy," writes Sol Williams, merchant, Jesse, Tenn. "I sell more of it than any other preparation of like character. I have used it myself and found it gave me more relief than anything else I have ever tried for the same purpose." Obtainable everywhere.

Buffoonery in "Hamlet." The buffoonery once tolerated in provincial theaters is illustrated in an anecdote set forth in the memoirs of Barry Sullivan. Wright, who was the first gravedigger, prepared himself to take the house by storm by having incensed his person within a dozen or more waistcoats of all sorts of shapes and patterns. When about to commence the operation of digging the grave for the late Ophelia Wright began to unwind by taking off waistcoat after waistcoat, which caused uproarious laughter among the audience. But as fast as he relieved himself of one waistcoat Paul Bedford, the second gravedigger, incensed himself in the castoff vests, which increased the salvo of laughter, for as Wright was getting thinner Paul grew fatter and fatter. Wright, seeing himself outdone, kept on the remainder of the waistcoats and went on with his part quite crestfallen.

His Best. A small boy, who had been allowed to run much in the streets, had so improved his opportunities that before he was five years old it was commonly said by the neighbors that he swore like a little pirate. Parental discipline did not avail to break him of the habit. One day when he was to visit his grandmother in the next street he was employed by his mother to behave himself properly, and especially not to indulge in bad language. He promised to try to remember. On his return at night the anxious mother asked if he had been a good boy. He replied emphatically that he had: clenching the statement by adding: "I only called gramma an old devil twice all day."—New York Post.

Languages. The French, Spanish, Italian and Portuguese languages (known as the "romance" languages) are offshoots of the old Latin and are to a considerable extent founded upon it, while the German and English tongues grew up quite apart from the Latin. That is why the Scandinavian, Dutch, German and English languages (which, like the peoples themselves, are closely related) are so scant in Latin words and derivations.—New York American.

Hope. "Yes, she rejected me, but she did it in a most encouraging way." "How was that?" "As I went away she pointed to the footprints that I had made on the carpet and said, 'The next time you come to propose to me I want you to wipe your shoes clean!'"—Der Guckkasten.

China's Tea and Rice. China has three crops of tea—the spring crop in April, the second in May and the "even flower" crop about the 1st of July. The export season is throughout the year. Three crops of rice are harvested. Export of this product is prohibitive.

A Loving Couple. "How many lumps of sugar, George?" asked the wife. "Oh, have your own sweet way, as usual, dear," replied the husband.—Yonkers Statesman.

Fountain of Youth. She—Old Mrs. Butterins seems to be a fountain of youth in spite of her years. She—At any rate she's always gushing.—Chaparral.

Ask your friends for advice, women for pity, strangers for charity and your relatives for nothing.—Spanish Proverb.

Bring us your tires and tubes to be vulcanized. We have the best equipped plant, in apparatus, material and knowledge in this section of the state. A casing vulcanized by us is as good in that spot as if it were new. We do not patch tubes, we VULCANIZE them. Davies, the Tire Man. 8-12-15
